

The newspaper stock at the Research Library of Tomsk State University

The collection of newspapers in the TSU RL is one of the largest in the West Siberia: being universal by subject, it includes 5033 titles, 12632 annual sets in Russian and other languages. The newspaper stock of the Research Library of TSU is a unique knowledge base for researchers, local historians, and specialists in various fields of knowledge. The newspaper stock consists of central, republican, regional, district and mass-circulation newspapers. It has plenty of Siberian newspapers, newspapers of the period of the Civil and the Great Patriotic War.

Newspapers are stored in the department of the library stock (book depository), some from the last year are exhibited in the Professors Reading Room.

You can view the composition of the newspaper stock at the E-catalogue of the Research Library. The E-library of TSU has a collection of digitized Siberian newspapers.

You can order newspapers from the book depository by online or handwritten request.

Warning! To work with newspapers from 19th century up to 1946, a researcher must provide a written request from organisation, indicating the research topic.
